Vidurashwatha is also known as the "Jallianwala Bagh of the South". As recorded, on April 25, 1938, as a part of the freedom struggle of India, a group of villagers had congregated to organize a Satyagraha. Similar to that happened at Jallianwala Bagh, police fired indiscriminately at the group, resulting in the death of around 35 people. A memorial has been erected in this location to mark as a respect to the martyred people.

Vidurashwatha relates us to the famous Mahabharata epic, Vidhura after seeing all the bloodshed during the Kurukshetra war, wanted to attain salvation. So, he started for yatra based on Lord Krishna advise and came to place, while performing argya to lord Surya, during sandhyavandana, he found a sapling floating on the river Uttara Pinakini. He planted it and worshipped with great devotion, pleased by his devotion, Trimurthy(Brahma, Vishnu and Shiva) appeared before him and blessed with salvation. That's how the place got its name Vidurashwatha.
